

ENVIRONMENTAL SERVAS WORKING CAMP

2-8th of September in Valencia-Spain

Servas Spain is glad to invite you to participate in our first Youth Environmental Working Camp!! One of the events we are organizing to celebrate the 70 anniversary of Servas. It will be in the Natural Park of El Saler in Valencia- Spain, from 2nd to 8th of September 2019. The main objective of this event is awareness of young people in respect for nature in general, learning and enjoying in a beautiful landscape.

El Saler is a natural park with a Mediterranean forest, near the beach and near a lake, and the accommodation will be in the Casal d'Esplai, a hostel into the natural park, 100 meters from the El Saler Beach.

We are going to work and learn about with three different areas:

- The forest, learning to take care the environment.
- The beach, learning about protected animals (for example marine turtles)
- And the lake, learning about migratory birds.

Also we will have the collaboration of the Valencia Council and the participation of many specialists in all the areas who are going to teach us about many different subjects.

There are 50 places for young Servas members (18 to30 years old) from any country. The activities and workshops will be in English and Spanish (some of the speakers will do in Spanish but we will have a translation help).

The price will be 140€ include accommodation, food and all the activities.
